MINING NOTES.

Fremont-Grover.—The workmen have now reached the 1050 level of the Fremont, which was burned out the last of November, and during the last few days have been working past it. It was the expectation of everyone that they would find the skip, which had become lodged near this level, but when they opened up the ground the skip could not be found. The cable had been burned and broken from the weight of the skip, so that it fell farther down the shaft, just how far cannot be told. Nor were the remains of the man supposed to be caught under the skip found. It is still possible that he may have been carried down with the skip when it broke loose. Twenty stamps are running now.

Ferry Brothers of Volcano have cleaned out the old Gallagher tunnel at considerable expense on a claim of the same name one and a half miles north of Volcano. The tunnel, 150 feet in length, was run many years ago and finally abandoned on account of pitting bedrock. Their prospects in the old ground were of so encouraging a nature that they have concluded to sink a shaft 50 or 60 feet in depth through the lava-capped hill, characteristic of that region to the gravel below. They anticipate that a shaft will enable them to extract the pay dirt at less expense than by the tunnel method.

Johnson Copper M. Co.—A corporation consisting of 50,000 shares of capital stock at a par value of $1 a share to take over this property was formed during March. These are preliminary shares only, and an earnest effort is being made to interest capital to invest in what is looked upon as a promising copper claim. As soon as a sufficient number of shares have been disposed of to insure a regular income, development work will be commenced. The assessments will not exceed 3c per share, and they will be levied only when necessary. The officers of the company are V. S. Garbarini, president; W. G. Thompson, secretary, and W. Tam, treasurer. These, with John Strohm and Geo. W. Brown, constitute the directors for the first year.

Defender—F. B. Joyce of Defender, was in town Monday, bringing with him a 20-pound piece of high grade ore, and expressed it to stockholders in the East. It came from a new find on the 200-foot level and represents a rich streak in a vein of good ore, the width of which has not yet been fully determined, but known to be five feet. The mine at this point had been overlooked in former years and the indications seem to point out that this is a find of some importance. The new company has prosecuted developments to such an extent that fully 6,000 tons of ore are blocked out, and from milling operations the management feels confident in stating that the stockholders will realize more on their investment than if placed in the usual channels.

MISLEADING STATEMENTS.

The gold camps of Nevada spare no efforts to boost their claims to merit before the American people. In many instances the boosters overdo their role. In a great measure they appeal, not to the intellectual mining world, but to the get-rich-quick portion of the community, who as a rule are entirely ignorant of practical mining. It is no doubt true that some good ore has been obtained in most, if not all, of the much advertised gold districts. There is every reason to believe that the stories of the fabulously rich rock are largely made up from the imagination. We have been told of gold ore running thousands of dollars to the ton, and the idea has been conveyed that large bodies of this high grade rock are met with. Such statements may be accepted by the unsophisticated, for whom they are intended; but they are scorned by those versed in mining as on a par with the wildest of wildcat schemes. Here in Amador county, where quartz mining has been in vogue more than half a century, such claims deceive no one. They are greeted with derision. In the history of this mother lode region many instances of quartz milling thousands of dollars to the ton have occurred, but it generally happens that many tons of quartz have to be extracted before a ton of such ore is accumulated. True, pockets have been encountered at one time or another in nearly every big mine that has been opened up in Amador county, yielding several thousands of dollars compressed within a very small space of vein. These pockets are not deemed of any great importance. They cut but a small figure in the sum total of the gold output. They weigh little in getting capital to invest in quartz mining here. Large bodies of comparatively low grade ore with the values evenly distributed throughout the vein are much more attractive to the investing public. The mines which have made Amador famous—made millionaires—have yielded on an average from $6 to $10 per ton. It is doubtful if any mother lode mine has averaged during its dividend era much above the first named figure. And we refer to the ore sent to the mill, excluding that discarded as being too low grade to crush. The talk of ore running thousands of dollars per ton, and seams of almost solid gold smacks of fake mining. Whatever truth attaches to such reports, it means that such mines are short lived; they surrender a bunch or so of high grade rock, and their career is over. The permanent mining camps are low grade propositions. The flashy camps of southern Nevada have the call for a time, but we believe that capital will eventually attach itself to the great quartz belts of Amador and adjoining counties as a safer, because more permanent field. This mother lode belt will in all probability be surrendering gold when the boom camps of the sagebrush country have reverted back to their former desert condition.

According to the Insurance Press of New York some of schools in a great many of our larger cities are absolutely unsafe in regards to fire protection, thus endangering the lives of the children compelled to attend them. It gives a list of the cities of the country whose schools, or some of them, have not the proper protection against fire. In this list are included Sacramento, Fresno, Berkeley, Eureka, Pasadena, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Jose, Santa Barbara, Santa Cruz, Stockton, San Francisco, and Oakland, the largest towns of this state. Los Angeles is not included. There seems to be more pride in the latter city, for instead of centering their attention upon one school, as is the case in some places, they make it a point to have them all supplied with the modern appliances and conveniences for the protection against fire, and proper exits in case of one. Probably the greatest mistake made in many schools is having the doors entering them open inward instead of outward. Had it not been for this there would not have been so many children killed during the Collinwood fire. In San Francisco the schools are crowded to overflowing as the result of some of them being destroyed during the great fire, but even before that they were not amply provided for the saving of lives in case of fire. It is to be hoped that the schools already in use will be provided, as far as possible, with means of escape in time of need, while those to be built are erected in such manner that exit is easy.

A LEAP TO FAME.

The Story of a Stuffed Cat in the Smithsonian Institution.

In the Smithsonian Institution at Washington is a case containing a stuffed cat. A card attached to the case, setting forth the reasons why this particular feline is known to fame, gives official sanction to a tale that is in every respect as remarkable as any emanating from the nature fakirs. The story of the cat is as follows:

Many years ago, while the Washington monument was still in an unfinished condition, an adventurous and patriotic cat ascended the interior of the shaft by means of the ropes and scaffolding. When the workmen arrived at the upper landing the next morning and began to prepare for the day's work the cat took fright and, springing to the outer edge, took the leap of over 500 feet to the hard earth below.

In the descent, which was watched closely by the workmen, the cat spread herself out like a flying squirrel, fell slowly and alighted, as cats always do, on all fours. After turning over on the soil a few times as if dazed she prepared to leave the grounds. She had proceeded almost beyond the shadow of the monument when a stray terrier pounced upon and killed her.

One of the workmen rescued the remains of the cat and turned them over to the Smithsonian institution, which caused the skin to be mounted and placed under the glass case.—Youth's Companion.

SOUND WAVES.

The Way They Are Deflected by Atmospheric Causes.

One of Uncle Sam's scientists at Washington gives an interesting explanation of the action of the wind in preventing the spread of sound toward the direction from which the wind comes.

It is, he claims, not the wind, as such, that prevents sound from traveling against it, but differences in the strength of the wind. If, for instance, the wind is stronger above than below or stronger at one side, its effect will be to tilt the sound waves in one direction or another.

Differences of temperature in the air also cause deflection of the waves of sound. Other atmospheric causes exist which deflect sound from a straight course and prevent it from going as far in certain directions as it may have been expected to go.

Some of the sirens in this country, says the scientist, produce sounds which ought theoretically to be audible at a distance of 1,500 miles, but, in fact, the authorities are satisfied if they are heard only two miles away. The reason for the discrepancy between calculation and experiment was probably atmospheric deflection of the sound.—Minneapolis Journal.

Coughs.

Every person who coughs should not alarm himself with the idea that he is in a bad way. Experience has convinced us of a fact that there are two distinct kinds of coughs—one proceeding from an affection of the lungs and air tubes, as in a cold, the other proceeding from effervescence in the stomach. The lungs cough is a symptom which all know to require attention, lest serious consequences ensue. The stomach cough is a much more simple matter and may easily be got quit of. It is caused by the food and drink which are put into the stomach effervescing and producing an irritation. A knowledge of this fact ought to lead persons so affected to ponder a little on the nature of their ailment and the tone of their digestive powers.

The Underdog.

Underdogism does not arise wholly from condition (you find underdogs in the very seats of the mighty), but from a winsome quality of mind which is inherent. You may know the underdog by a certain negative attitude, an absence of assertion, a denial of superiority, a smiling air of seeing the humor of the situation, a droll hint of a wink at his own discomfiture. Some of them, it is true, do make the mistake of trying to be something else. They put on an imposing front and in a momentary flood of favor and fortune pose as dogs rampant. Yet even in that lofty attitude the tail may be observed between the legs.—Atlantic.

Expert Tattooers.

The inhabitants of the Marquesas Islands are among the most expert tattooers on earth, and not even the crown of the head, the fingers and the toes are exempt from the needle. The hands are ornamented with utmost care, all the fingers having their own pattern, so the hand would look as though incased in a tight fitting glove were it not for the finger nails of enormous length which complete the hand adornment of the wealthier natives.

Amador County

Descriptive Article

Amador county comprises an area of 548 square miles. It lies on the western slope of Sierra Nevada mountains, and embraces within its territory all the diversity of valley, foothill, and high mountainous lands.

Climate.—The climate of the populous portions of the county is as genial and healthful as can be found anywhere in California. As climate is one of the most valuable assets of this favored state in attracting population, Amador stands second to no county in this regard. It should, and no doubt will in time, when its climatic advantages are more thoroughly understood and appreciated, become a health resort not only for those in less favored states, but for the residents of other parts of California. The temperature alone the central portion rarely falls below 30 degrees above zero in winter, and as rarely rises to 100 degrees in the summer. Snow seldom falls in the settled districts, and never remains on the ground for more than a few hours. Of course, in the high mountain regions of eastern Amador the snowfall is very heavy—which is characteristic of the entire Sierra Nevada range. The summer season is always accompanied with cool nights; permitting of sound, refreshing slumber. Fogs are rare, cyclones are unknown, thunderstorms are infrequent.

Gold Mining.—The county, although rich in other sources of wealth, comparatively untouched, is noted principally for her quartz mines. The deepest gold mines in America are located here. The Kennedy mine is now taking gold in liberal quantities from quartz extracted from a depth of over 2000 feet below the surface, with every indication that the pay-off extends to a much greater depth. Since the discovery of gold, the county has contributed fully $100,000,000 to the world's supply of the precious metal. The mines are still yielding at the rate of about two million dollars annually. Nearly all of this wealth is produced by eight or ten mines operating on what is called the "mother lode," stretching clear across the county in a north-easterly direction a distance of twenty miles. The mines aggregate between 400 and 500 stamps, and furnish employment for over 1000 miners. This industry is still in its infancy. The unexplored territory, even along the main gold belt, is far in excess of the ground that has actually been worked or prospected. The county offers to-day one of the most inviting fields to be found anywhere in the world for the investment of capital in the fascinating business of gold mining, not alone along the mother lode, but also in the almost untouched mineralized country of the east belt, some ten or twelve miles from the main lode.

Besides gold, we have copper, deposits of pottery, coal, marble, slate, limestone, granite, and soapstone or talc—all undeveloped.

Agricultural Capabilities.—The agricultural possibilities equal, if not excel, the mineral riches. The valley lands will produce anything that can be grown in the most favored sections. In the foothill lands all kinds of deciduous fruits thrive; also all kinds of vegetable are raised where irrigation is practicable along the numerous water courses. Further up in the mountains, at an altitude of 2000 to 2500 feet, the soil is admirably adapted for apples and potatoes. A ready market for many times the quantity now raised of these commodities can be found in the various mining towns.

Grape culture and winemaking are becoming important industries, both the grapes and wine commanding a better price than the product of the lowland.

Land is cheap compared with other California lands. Improved farms may be secured for one-fourth the price current in some places. Unimproved lands can be had from $5 to $10 per acre. It does not require a fortune to buy a small ranch. There is room for a large addition to our agricultural population. Vast tracts now devoted to cattle ranges might be made the homes of hundreds of prosperous farmers.

Amador has a population of less than 12,000. Three fourths of this is concentrated in a strip of three miles above and below the mineral belt.

Jackson, the county seat, has about 2500 inhabitants, and is an incorporated city of the sixth class. Other towns are Sutter Creek, Amador City, Drytown, Plymouth, Volcano, Pine Grove and Oleta. Ione City is the metropolis of the valley section, a thriving town of 1000 inhabitants.

The community is law-abiding. Educational facilities are excellent. A schoolhouse is within easy reach of nearly every family. There is one high school, located at Ione.

The assessment roll for 1907 is $5,800,793, and the tax rate for both state and county purposes $2 on the $100.

The Southern Pacific has a branch railroad running to Ione. From this point the Ione and Eastern railroad extends 14 miles further to the mining section.

The various religious denominations and fraternal organizations are well represented.

The power plant of the Standard Electric Co.—one of the largest in the world—is located four miles from Jackson.

HER SERIOUS MOOD.

"Ah," said he, pausing a moment at the portiere and looking in at her as she sat there waiting for him. "Ah, there," said he.

And his eye had a certain roguishness, his manner a certain whimsicality, and the tone of his voice was such that you could have sugared your tea with it, but as he stood there—his ear bent forward to catch her usual playful answer and his eye all ready to feast upon her customary look of love—but as he stood there, I repeat, she preserved a silence and all the conventionalities, and the shadow of a nameless dread hovered over his imploring countenance.

"Good evening," she said. "Good evening?" he demanded, with a dropping jaw.

"Yes," she said. "Good evening?" he repeated. "You say 'Good evening,' Edna?"—the flabbergasted man!

"Do you think it will rain?" she said. "Rain?" he cried, and that nameless dread ceased to hover and settled down forthwith. "Rain? First you say, 'Good evening,' and then you ask me if it will rain," and making a terrible gesture of despairing determination he strode toward her.

"Edna!" he said, "what is it that has come between us? You must tell me! Oh, what horrible, horrible mistake is this that—"

"John," she said, "Hush!"

"Ah!" he breathed to the night. "She calls me 'John!'"

And he sought to take her little hand as though it were all right now. "Why, of course I call you 'John,'" she said, keeping her hands to herself.

"John, stop! I want to have a serious talk with you."

"Serious?" said John, pausing in his endeavors and slowly sitting back with a worried, worried look between his eyes.

"Yes, serious," she said. "Now, John, listen. Our conversation has been too frivolous lately—oh, awfully frivolous! Light, you know, John, and nothing to it." (John made an eagerly dissenting motion with his elbows). "No, John, really, there has been nothing to it—and life is passing John. We must talk of things more instructive; you must teach me, and I must teach you—if I can. There are so many things we could talk about, John, instead of those—those awfully frivolous things. There's the Panama Canal—I was reading about it all morning. Why, John, it's just wonderful! And then there's Mars, and the fleet, and the currency—John, you must tell me all about the currency question—and there's the Philippines, and Tibet, and the shah, and earthquakes, and oh, ever so many things! So let's be sensible from now on and not waste our time like we have done. Now, tonight, John, suppose we talk about derelicts."

"Derelicts?" gasped John. "Derelicts?"

"Yes; ocean derelicts—I was reading about them all afternoon. John, did you know that a computation made by the hydro-graphic office" (she coughed with pride) "shows that 1628 derelicts were sighted upon the North Atlantic Ocean within a period of seven years?"

John said nothing.

"Yes," she answered, "and in as much as the average term of survival for a derelict is one month, it is estimated that at least nineteen must be constantly floating over the North Atlantic Ocean."

John sighed.

"John," she said, "there are more derelicts sighted during September, October and November than during any other months of the year."

"Are there?" said John.

"Yes," she said, "and here's a funny thing—I mean a strange thing, John; the pilot charts show that most of the derelicts have been sighted in the Gulf Stream."

John got up and walked to the window.

"Why," she said, "one derelict is known to have floated three years and six days, and to have drifted over 10,000 miles. She was abandoned off Cape Hatteras, John, and floated in a northeasterly direction with the Gulf Stream."

Catching her eye, John gave her such a pleading look that for a moment her voice faltered, but she continued nevertheless.

"This derelict then wandered off toward the southeast and circled around in the track of steamships west bound from Gibraltar."

He came back from the window and stood beside her.

"Next she wandered south until she reached the northern limit of the northeast trade winds—"

Sighing bitterly, he walked away again.

"She followed the general direction of the sailing route from the equator, she continued with a catch in her voice, 'approaching the United States coast until she encountered the Gulf Stream, being reported in all about forty-five times.'"

He sat upon the sofa and simply looked at her.

"Prof. Waters tells about another ship that was cut in two as a result of collision," she went on, avoiding his glance and trying to harden her voice, "but she did not sink. The stern went north; the bow went south—"

"Poor bow!" he said. "Went south, did he?"

"The bow went south," she repeated. "The stern brought up on Wells Beach, and the bow drifted on down opposite the Carolinas. * * * It is probable that the stern was influenced more by the wind and less by the current * * * than was the bow."

She hesitated, paused, stopped and in that moment the great light shone for her and the great voice spoke to her. For the first time she understood why men go down to sea in ships, why canals are built, why the cannon roar, why man goes forth at the call of duty springing. She gave John the glance that his eyes had hungered for, and all at once John's face was shining like a sunburst.

"Ah?" he said, returning to his first greeting. "Ah, there?" To which she made learned reply: "I see you!"

John turned his head for a moment to hide his happiness and then looked at her again, his eye sparkling with a certain roguishness and his manner full of a certain whimsicality, as he remarked: "Toot-sie!"

And her answering echo softly smote the air, indescribably wise, indescribably deep and indescribably educational.

"Woot-sie!"—New York Evening Sun.

Penny For a Priceless Book.

A workman once purchased for a penny an aged looking volume bearing date of 1540. The man tried to read it, but threw up the attempt apparently in disgust, and the volume was relegated to the cupboard. A friend of his happened to see the book and took it to the British museum authorities, who promptly made an offer of £90, the highest sum the librarian is allowed to expend without a special vote of the trustees. Had the man known what he was about he would have stood out for more, as the authorities would have paid almost any price rather than allow the volume to slip through their fingers. It was, in fact, the first book printed by Gutenberg and was therefore almost priceless.—London Tit-Bits.

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers. You can't separate them.

And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache.

If the kidneys are well and strong, the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong, healthy kidneys.

Mrs. Jennie Cary, living on Union street, Placerville, Cal., says: "I was in a miserable condition when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention. I had dull bearing down pains in my hips and the slightest exertion was too much for me. Added to these afflictions was a too frequent action of the kidney secretions which kept me up during the night and greatly disturbed my rest. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved me of every trouble. I confidently believe that they will relieve any one suffering from kidney trouble."

ITEMS WORTHY

OF PERUSAL.

Every thoroughbred finally makes an assignment.

No man wants to quit work early and go home on wash day.

So many things go wrong that we are tired of being indignant.

Has a big girl a right to whip the other children in the family?

It is more impolite than unlucky to cross in front of a funeral procession.

Convince a man in an argument that he is wrong, and he will hate you.

No woman can ask a man for money so gently that it will not make him mad.

A man never knows what a rival he has in a woman's kin until he marries her.

Every woman would be jealous of her husband if she could read his thoughts.

It is every man's opinion that mourning attire is a useless and costly advertisement.

The world is full of men who have things they want to sell for less than they paid for them.

The man who is always pretty busy in a crowd of women, never has much to say in a crowd of men.

There is one in every family who shirks, and another who does double work on account of the lazy one.

You are what the opinion of your neighbors make you, but by your own conduct you make their opinions.

The best girl in the world is the one who remembers that her mother is a human being, and sometimes gets tired.

Whenever a man has a little pain he goes around saying he feels as though someone were sticking a knife into his vitals.

There are very few people who live to be 60 who do not look as though they were tired of living and afraid to die.

The American who has invented a noiseless powder, should form the acquaintance of the women; some of them use a pretty loud variety.

It makes no difference how little a boy is, when his mother scolds him, she says: "You ought to be ashamed of yourself; a big boy like you."

It is a fool girl's opinion that the man who will spend a month's salary on silliness for her, thinks more of her than the man who spends only a week's.

"I don't go with you because I like you," said a frank young woman to a young man yesterday, "but to find out if I will like you when I know you better."

When a widow appears in "colors" the first time she nearly always apologizes by saying, "I feel terribly about taking off my mourning, but my relatives insisted upon it."

There are a number of mistakes in the world, but the one a boy makes when he runs away from home to get out of work, stands well towards the head of the list in size.

Conversation at a family dinner is apt to be as disconnected as the dictionary, owing to an effort to get the girl children to eat more and the boy children to eat less.

When the average man has a favor to give, he gives it to an enemy, thinking his friends are all right, anyway. This is a foolish mistake. The only way to have friends is to deserve them.

Give a girl a double set of grandparents, her parents, and a half dozen brothers and sisters, and she will not feel that anyone in the world understands her until some young man comes along.

If you give a party, and send word to a man through half a dozen other men to be there, he will come. A woman has to have an engraved invitation on a silver platter before she will consider herself invited.

One of the greatest truths is that the man who will submit to being imposed upon, will be imposed upon. There is such a thing as being too good-natured. Do any man's work, and he will gradually let you do more of it.

When there is a concert, every girl on the programme has to have the piano turned, the piano stool twisted higher, or lower, and the lights rearranged before she will consent to play. She makes more fuss than a general getting ready for a battle.

When a girl gets married, she is very often guilty of the offense of taking her baby over to her mother, to watch while she goes gadding, and then telling other people that her unmarried sisters are "not as thoughtful of poor mother as she used to be when she was at home to help."

It makes no difference how little money a man gets, he should save some of it every month. Starvation and old age are not goblins called up by someone's imagination to frighten the spendthrifts. They have real existence, and if you refuse to save a dime, just because it is only a dime, and not a dollar, you will some day be in want.

A horse confined in a field sees and dreams of a very choice pasture lying some distance beyond, but if it is turned loose it wanders and never finds it. Its travels lie along dusty roads, with the grass on either side fenced beyond its reach, and it is the same with the man who has a job. He thinks that all he has to do is to go away from the place where he is tied, and that he will "do better." But the roads are long and dusty, and he soon begins to show the effect of travel upon them.

Biology and the Canal.

At the recent meeting of the American association for the advancement of science in Chicago, attention was called to the interesting fact that the work on the Panama Canal is changing biological conditions in Panama, and that its completion will enable the fresh-water fauna of the Atlantic and Pacific slopes to intermingle. Undoubtedly, many marine animals will pass from one ocean to the other. Thus a permanent change of conditions will be brought about, which may or may not possess much practical importance; but its scientific interest is very great. In view of these facts, the association resolved to urge upon congress the necessity of an immediate biological survey of the Panama Canal zone.

AUKUM.
May 4.—The steady down pour of rain on Friday night brightened the countenances of the farmers and everyone else for that matter. The outlook of the country for miles around is now favorable for an average crop.
Gilbert Corbora is going to Sacramento this morning, where he will go for medical aid as he has been ailing for quite a while.
Cleve Bell came down from the mountains on Friday last.
I understand that quite a number of Oletians are going down to see the fleet come in, among them are Mr Brown, his wife and two little daughters, Charlie Bloom and Irve Ostrom. If they succeed as well as a woman of my acquaintance, who went to see Ex-president Harrison when he came to San Francisco, they will have their pains with no gains. As she said the closest she got to President Harrison was getting within three blocks from him. "I wouldn't mind to see the fleet for that matter," she said, "but no more pains for me." Few realize what an immense crowd there will be in San Francisco to see the fleet. On my part there is not even a curiosity for I have seen war vessels lying at anchor in the harbor of Seattle, which excited no curiosity on my part at all. They were not so much different from ordinary merchantmen in general mould excepting their revolving turrets and open mouth guns, and at a distance altogether appearing as some ragged monster floating upon the bosom of the deep. It will be a veritable harvest for thugs and pickpockets, who will work with a will despite the combined effort of all the police San Francisco may have. Some will lose their lives, some be robbed and others be disappointed in even their dearest expectations. The first object of a war vessel is an agent for destruction and shedding of human blood, only they are a necessity by general accord of human opinion, but for all that they are agents of human monstrosity after all. The teaching of Christ that "peace on earth and good will to man" can not be propagated by belching cannon.
Giddy Dick.
WILLOW SPRINGS.
May 4.—The ball at Cramer's Saturday night was largely attended, everyone having a delightful time.
John Yager and wife came up from Ione last Friday. They were inspecting their stock farm here.
Elam McGaffee went to Angels Camp last Monday, where he is to drive a fourteen horse team for the Manuel Estate Co. this summer.
E. A. Hall is improving, he can now walk with crutches. He cut his leg while chopping wood last November.
Bert and Frank Littlefield are going to Indian Diggings to work in a mine in a short time.
L. D. McGaffee returned from Middle Camp, Tuolumne county, today. He reports wages small and work scarce at that point.
The last rains have done lots of good here. There will be a fair crop after all.
John Mathis, fearing he would have no hay this year, went to Stockton and bought a car load. After all he will have a good crop, and hay for sale.
Grelich's are getting ready to drive their cattle to their mountain range.
The fruit crop promises to be the largest for years.
Harry Cook and Mrs Wilson of Sutter Creek, were in Willow Springs today.
Tom Stock is raising chickens at the Central House for John Gambert.
George French of Ione, was here this week visiting Mrs Mamie Crayton.
George Morgan has been prospecting and says he has a good prospect for a pocket.
Lue Wait called last week from Oleta.
Grace Mellow passed through here on her way to Oleta. I believe she intends visiting her old home at Lockwood Station. D.
SUTTER CREEK.
May 7.—Our town is quite deserted this week, as many have gone to San Francisco to witness the arrival of the fleet; among those who have gone are P. Kisedorph and family, Mrs McKenney and daughter, Leo Williams, J. William, F. Payne, P. Davovich, D. Ramazzotti, W. Darrow, Ephriam and C. R. Downs, D. A. Fraser E. C. Voorheis and John Ross.
Lawrence White and wife of Amador, were the guests of Mr and Mrs J. Daneri, of this place Wednesday.
Mrs R. C. Merwin of Amador, was visiting friends here Thursday.
Mrs W. H. Greenhalgh of Jackson, is here this week, the guest of her sister, Mrs James Riley.
Miss Victoria Merton came up from Fresno a few days ago, to visit her mother and brother.

John M. Benson has returned from Yerrington and Rawhide, Nev., where he has been for a couple of months. John is not favorably impressed with the climate, otherwise says it is all right.
The dance given by Excelsior Rebekah Lodge No. 63 I. O. O. F. last Friday night, was a decided success. The attendance was large and the music furnished by the Amador orchestra was all that could be desired, and well worthy the praise they received. The supper was an excellent one, and satisfactory in every particular. The Rebekahs are rejoicing over a net total of over $60.
J. Davis, Bert Walsh, C. Williams, W. Dunlap and Pearce of Amador; Malcolm Calkins and Will Connors of Jackson, were prominent among the dancers last Friday night.
Mrs James McNaughton is in San Francisco visiting her daughter, Miss Lulu, and will enjoy the sights of the fleet.
Mrs Elliott Springer of Nevada, is here visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs John Ross, and cousins, Mesdames Delucchi and Ramazzotti.
Oliver Wadge and Louie Gagliardo left Saturday morning for Tonopah, Nevada.
John Rourke, who is employed in the Kennedy mine, was struck in the head last Saturday night by a large rock, cutting a deep gash. Dr. Griffin attended him, taking several stitches in the wound. It was a close call, but he is getting along nicely.
Sutterite.
IONE.
May 7.—Miss Agnes Bryson departed Monday for San Francisco, where she will visit for a few weeks with her aunt.
John Bagley, after having taken in the picnic and having visited with old friends and relatives for several days, took his departure for his home in Oakland Tuesday.
Mrs W. D. Amick has been quite ill for the past week, and it was feared she would have pneumonia.
Vesta Maestretti is visiting friends in Sutter Creek this week.
Fay Knapp, accompanied by his mother, came down from Oleta Monday, and the following morning took the train for San Francisco, in order that they might view the fleet.
Albert Schoendorf is visiting in Sacramento this week.
The lone circle and a few friends passed an enjoyable evening Wednesday night, by taking a hay ride out to Mr and Mrs Haymonds. A large wagon filled with hay was furnished by one of the members, and it was a jolly crowd which gathered together for the merry ride. Games, cards and other amusements were indulged in until a late hour, when refreshments were served, and then the crowd started for home having had a most delightful time.
Miss Marguerite McDonald is visiting friends in Oakland, and she also expects to see the fleet before her return.
Dr. E. G. Woolsey and family are taking in the sights of the city this week.
Our enterprising editor has taken a week's vacation in order that he may visit the bay cities during the excitement.
Mrs Wm. Fithian and John Bagley made a flying trip to Oleta the first of the week.
Mrs Whitney came up from Oakland Tuesday, to visit her father, John Browning, who has been quite ill.
Miss Ella French of Oakland, is visiting the home folks for a short time. Ioneite.
PLYMOUTH.
May 7.—Last Friday about twenty-five of Plymouth's young people went to Latrobe for the purpose of attending the grand ball given there by Cosumne Lodge, I. O. O. F. They all report having enjoyed themselves very much.
Mrs A. J. Coster, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs S. K. Davis, and son, Robert, returned from Sacramento last Saturday. Robert, who has been seriously ill, is greatly improved while Mrs Davis has the misfortune of being the victim of the mumps.
Mrs Edith Woodford, who has been chosen delegate to represent Plymouth Rebekah Lodge No 65, left this morning for Sacramento, to attend the Rebekah assembly, which is to be held in that city, beginning next Tuesday, May 12.
Last Saturday evening Miss Hazel Griffith was pleasantly surprised by her friends, the feature of the evening being a "china shower." They all assembled at Miss Hazel's home at 8 o'clock and were pleasantly entertained with solos, both vocal and instrumental by the competent ones of the party. Refreshments were then served, followed by game playing. In the candy heart game, Mrs Butler was awarded first prize while Miss Smith captured the consolation. Miss Hazel was the recipient of many beautiful pieces of china. At midnight the following dispersed to their respective homes well satisfied with the evening's enjoyment: Misses Hazel Griffith, Norma Smith of Jackson, Mae Easton, Marguerite Slavich, Albena Levaggi, Laura Ball of Shenandoah, Clara Steiner, Idelle Whitehead of Shenandoah, and Mae Levaggi; also Mesdames Dolores Potter, Laura Butler, Clara M. O'Brien of Sacramento, and Mabel Jameson of Shenandoah.
Dr. W. A. Norman and sister, Mrs Geo. Noe, accompanied by J. E. Walton, left this week for the city to see the fleet. Many others too numerous to mention also went for the same purpose.
Plymouth is making preparations to celebrate the fourth of July. Who says the town is dead?
Last Sunday Forrest Parlor No. 86 N. D. G. W. privately observed their decoration day, decorating the graves of the sisters, who have gone before, and rendered appropriate ceremonies.
OLETA.
May 6.—There are a great many from Oleta and round going to San Francisco, to see the fleet come in.
Mrs J. Robinson is up on a visit to her father, K. Lotts.
Mr and Mrs John Ray are visitors at his sister's, Mrs Townsen.
Harry Dickerman was a visitor at the Clark ranch a few days last week.
Fay Knapp was up from the Preston school of Ione on a few days visit last week.
Mrs Mettler is able to be about again, after being quite sick for a few days.
Mrs Grace Mellon and children are visitors at her sister's, Mrs Schroder.
The Oleta school closes today and Miss E. Berry, the teacher, is going to give the children a candy pull and picnic.
Mrs Goodman, who has been confined to her bed for some weeks past, is able to be about again.
Mrs O. Knapp has so improved after her sickness, as to be able to be about again.
A. Gilbert has gone to Plymouth on a visit with friends.
J. Baglion of Forest Home, was a visitor to friends at Oleta last week.
Lou Votaw has gone to Sacramento. Pansy.
A Rather Queer Mistake.
Through some error in making up the forms last week the heading to the article concerning the death of Mrs Lavezzo was mixed so that it read altogether the opposite that it should and as it was intended. Such things are liable to happen in any print shop at times.
Caesar Ardito accompanied Jack Barton to his ranch in the mountains Wednesday morning. He went up with the intention of fishing, but whether he got any or not we do not know. At any rate he slept out Wednesday night and was rained on, so that he was pretty well soaked by the time morning came.

Narrowly Escape Accident.
While Misses Ethel and Hazel Green and Miss Nellie Driscoll were out driving last Sunday afternoon something broke about the harness and frightened the horse so that he got beyond the control of the girls. The horse ran only a short distance with the buggy, for it was soon overturned, the young ladies being thrown to the ground, while the horse broke away from the carriage. Fortunately none of them were hurt badly; only a few bruises and scratches. The girls returned to Gardellias at Big Bar bridge, which they had only left, and telephoned to town for someone to come after them. It required a man on horseback some time to find the horse which the girls had been driving. The buggy was badly damaged, one of the wheels being broken from collision with a tree, while one of the shafts was broken.

WANTED
I want to hear from owner having
GOOD FARM or BUSINESS
for sale, any size and any locality. Not particular about location. If you want cash for your farm or business it will pay you to write me today. I only want to hear from owners who are willing to sell direct to the buyer and without paying a cent of commission to anyone. I am not a real estate agent and I don't accept properties for sale on a commission basis. Agents need not answer. If your farm or business is for sale write me at once and I will send you free full details of my new plan of putting you in touch with hundreds of people anxious to buy. I must hear from you quickly, as I have more buyers than I have properties to recommend. It costs you nothing to write to me and I may have someone who wants your place and will pay your full price. In writing give price and description and state how soon possession can be had. Address

Mrs. John H. Langhorst, who has been seriously sick for a number of days is now progressing toward recovery.

M. L. Smith Notary Public and Stenographer, Court St., Jackson, Telephone Black 413.

Mark Eudey, who went to the city a couple of weeks ago to spend a few days there, returned last Saturday evening.

Mr and Mrs Bartle of Sacramento, who came up to attend the funeral of John Blackwell, returned to their home on Tuesday.

Over a dozen young people from Jackson attended the dance in Sutter Creek last Friday evening, and they all report having had a good time.

Will Stiermann of Defender, was compelled to go to San Francisco Sunday morning to consult a specialist with reference to a stomach trouble of several years' standing.

Last Saturday morning a bus containing fifteen passengers for San Francisco, came down from Volcano and passed through Jackson, and went directly to Martell station.

Fank Duden, Jackson's postmaster, went to San Francisco last Saturday, to witness the arrival of the fleet. Misses Mayme Norman and Winnie Dufrene have charge of the office during his absence.

Mitchel Delich was caught in a slide in one of the slopes of the Kennedy last Friday afternoon, resulting in a bad cut in his right forearm. Dr. Sprague took five stitches in it to close the wound.

Alfonso Ginocchio went to the city last Saturday, principally to view the arrival of the fleet. Anticipating a scarcity of seats on the local train he drove to Ione reaching there in time to secure one.

Mrs. Hudson, wife of the blacksmith at George Lucot's shop, arrived here from Sacramento Tuesday evening with her son. They have rented Mrs. Vogan's house and expect to remain here permanently.

While timbering at the Argonaut mine last week one of the timbers slipped and fell upon the ankle of John Han, severely injuring the member. It is not known yet whether it was broken.

As he was coming out of the Argonaut shaft last week Gus Kovatevich caught his hand on some projection and cut a slight gash in it. Though it was only a small scratch an artery had been severed.

Treasurer Gritton expects to go to Sacramento about the fifteenth of this month to settle with the state. This county's apportionment of railroad taxes amounts to something over $2600 for the year, payable in two installments, which amount will be paid him when he goes down. He will be there in time to see the torpedo flotilla when it comes to Sacramento.

Mr Laselle and wife, who had rooms at the Meek residence for the past seven months, and who were there at the time of the fire, left Jackson Sunday morning for Mrs. Laselle's former home at Nogales, Mexico.

The Jackson baseball team traveled to Paloma and played a game of ball with the team from there Sunday. The Paloma team had eight runs before the Jackson boys finally decided to play. At the end of the game the score stood 17-12 in favor of the locals.

Every housekeeper should have one of Bissell's "Cyco" bearing carpet sweepers, which has superior merits over any other broom or sweeper made. L. C. White, Jackson Furniture Store, has just received a supply, and is selling them from $3.50 to $4.50. Call and get one before they are all gone.

Judge Hart, Grand Prelate of the Knights of Pythias, paid the lodge here an official visit last Friday evening. After the regular business was attended to, the members adjourned to the banquet room, where remarks were heard from the visiting brother and from those prominent in the lodge here.

Last Friday evening it commenced to rain about nine o'clock, and kept it up until the following morning. During that time .80 of an inch fell. Some of the ranchers were so unfortunate as to have cut their hay on Friday, even though it had been threatening all day to rain.

Posters have been issued from this office to the effect that R. P. Walker, who has just taken charge of the Pine Grove hall will give a dance on the thirtieth of this month in Pine Grove hall. The dance will be entirely free, this being his treat. Joe Katto of Jackson will be floor director. Mr Walker invites everyone to be there.

The Native Daughters carried out their usual custom of remembrance to their deceased members Sunday afternoon last. Services were held in their hall and they marched in a body to the graves in both cemeteries, where services were also held, and decorated each mound with flowers. About twenty-five members took part in the proceedings.

The tax collector's office commenced to make up the delinquent tax list the first of the week for the past year. The amount due for taxes at this time is about the same as last year, or if anything it may be a little less. The list in township five is larger than in the others and is much larger than it was last year.

This office has a quantity of vegetable seeds from the department of agriculture for distribution. We call our subscribers' attention a second time to this matter as the time for planting has arrived. If those interested will drop us a line we will mail such as we have in the line of corn, beet, cabbage, radish, lettuce, parsnip and squash, as long as they last.

Last Sunday a crowd of Jackson's young folks, thirteen in number, chaperoned by Mrs. French, procured a large bus and drove to Tabean's reservoir. They spent the entire day in that vicinity, returning to town in the evening. Those in the party were Misses Oda Ginocchio, Annie Love, Dela Dondora, Mamie Cassinelli, Annie Clark, Gertie Asbury, Luella Roberts and Violet Love, and Messrs Phil Roberts, Ellsworth Hopper, Charlie Matthers, Frank Brown and Charlie Rugue.

The democrats of the county in the various townships on Monday selected their delegates to the state convention to be held in Fresno on the eighteenth of this month. A Caminetti was chosen as a delegate at large, while in township one L. J. Glavinovich was selected, R. H. Bagley in two, Richard Byrd in three, W. L. Rose in four, and B. Levaggi in township five. They were confirmed on Tuesday by the democratic county central committee.

Large Numbers Go To City From Amador.

The first of the crowd to leave Amador county for San Francisco, drawn thither by the arrival of the Atlantic squadron, which has been since the middle of December getting there, was on Sunday, on which day there were three bus loads from Jackson alone, while on Monday and Tuesday there were two busses each morning. On Saturday a few went down and also on Wednesday. Commencing Saturday and up to Tuesday there were over two hundred people left this part of Amador county. Following are most of the departures from Jackson:

Declared Insane.

Last Friday afternoon Daisy May Love, who had been in the Sutter Creek sanitarium for a short time, was brought over from there and taken to the county hospital to await examination by Judge Rust as to her sanity. The examination took place Saturday, Drs. Gall and Endicott being the physicians attending. The complaint was brought by Fred Kerr. The testimony showed that she had attacked the nurse at the hospital, and had wandered about at night in her night clothes, and at different times had become quite violent, so much so that it was found necessary to strap her to the bed. She imagined that she was covered with bruises and scratches, that people were trying to set fire to her bed, and were giving her electric shocks, and that someone was trying to run a needle through her nose. She has been afflicted for a number of years, having in 1904 been taken to a private sanitarium at Livermore, but the treatment there did not seem to benefit her greatly. After hearing the testimony the court judged her to be insane and ordered her taken to the Napa state hospital. She was taken there on Monday by Sheriff Gregory, and was accompanied by her brother R. L. Love, who had come up from the city on that account.

John Blackwell

Passes Away.

John Blackwell, who had been sick for several weeks with all the ups and downs incident to typhoid fever, died last Friday. It was thought that he was on the road to recovery when he experienced a sudden relapse and expired in a short time. The funeral was held Monday, the Foresters choir rendering singing at the residence and the grave. The lodges of which deceased was a member, turned out in full force as a last mark of respect. The deceased was a man about forty years of age, a native of England, and had spent a number of years in our community working in the mines. He was a member of several fraternal organizations, and the Miners Union, and was very popular in all of them. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his death.

Passes Law Examination.

Tuesday morning D. B. Spagnoli received a telephone message from his son Ernest D. B. Spagnoli announcing the fact that he had passed his final examination successfully. He had been attending Hastings Law College, a department of the University of California for the past three years having selected the practice of law as his chosen profession. The issuance to him of a diploma means that he will be entitled to practice in all the courts of California. The final ceremonies of presenting him and the other successful members of his class with sheepskins will take place in Berkeley on Wednesday of next week, when President Wheeler will preside. His father is the happiest man in town and justly feels proud of the result of his son's three year's course at this school.

Ernest Spagnoli is but 22 years of age and was born in this town. All through life he has been studious as well as ambitious and the result proves that he has made good use of opportunities. He is the first Jackson boy to successfully pass the examination prescribed at Hastings Law College, and that in itself is surely a credit to the town. The Ledger extends the wish that in the practice of law he will gain honor and fame, and that his record will be one of which we all will be proud.

STILL IN THE FRONT

For full lines of clothing, shoes, drygoods, gloves, silks, laces, embroideries, ladies' waists and ties, and corsets, all of which will be sold to the people of Amador county for less than any house in the state, taking out the expenses and express charges.

The Italian Picnic.

The arrangements committee for the Italian picnic met here on Tuesday to discuss the plans for the day. It was decided not to have the rock drilling contest, as the rock procurable was not of the best, while if they would go away from the picnic ground for it the expenses would be too great. They have secured the merry-go-round belonging to Zumbiel and Matson for that day. The Jackson band will be on the ground during the entire day. The committee is composed of J. J. Dalo, chairman, A. Piccardo, G. B. Molinari, all of Jackson, Domenick Berta of Sutter Creek and Antone Viara of Drytown. The picnic is to be held on the first Sunday in June, which will be on the seventh.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to publicly thank the kind neighbors and friends for the many acts of sympathy shown us and the floral pieces tendered during our recent sad bereavement.
Mrs. J. Blackwell and family.

Found Dead Near Pine Grove.

Tuesday morning just before noon one of the Cuneo family, who live in that vicinity, found J. H. Roberts, an old prospector about sixty years of age, lying dead near his cabin about five miles from Pine Grove. From all appearances he had been dead for three or four days. Upon an examination of the body it was found that the neck had been dislocated, so it is probable that he had fallen while going to or from his cabin in such a way that it was thrown out of place, causing death. The coroner, H. E. Potter was notified immediately. He went up the same day and called a jury, but they had to wait for the return of witnesses who had gone to the city to view the fleet. Wild stories were in circulation to the effect that he had been foully murdered. This came from the fact that he had been expecting $5000 for some time from an estate in Texas, which had just been wound up, and that the deed was committed for this money. The body showed no marks however to indicate that he had been in a tussle. Dr. Endicott was the only witness examined, the taking of further testimony was postponed until a future date. George Huberty went to Pine Grove Thursday afternoon for the purpose of embalming the body, as the remains are to be forwarded for burial at a place near Los Angeles.

Assessor's Notice.

Notice is hereby given that I will be in my office in Jackson from the 14th to the 18th of May, for the purpose of fixing assessment values in township one, and hearing statements of property holders in reference thereto. Every taxpayer is requested to attend to this matter, as I am anxious to close up the books as soon as possible.

C. E. JARVIS,
County Assessor.

Judge Thompson's Court.

The following cases are on the city recorder's docket:

People vs. C. B. Ardito—Charge of misdemeanor, complaint on Dan Driscoll; plead guilty, fined $10 and paid.

People vs. James Carrira—Charge of misdemeanor, assault; warrant at request of Dan Driscoll; plead not guilty, out on bail.

People vs. Dan Driscoll—Charge of misdemeanor; warrant at C. B. Ardito's request; plead not guilty, out on bail.

People vs. Virgilio Boro—Charge of misdemeanor; warrant at request of C. B. Ardito; plead not guilty, out on bail.

People vs. Steve Angove—Charge of misdemeanor; warrant at request of C. B. Ardito; plead not guilty, out on bail.

A POPULAR MAN

FOR THE ASSEMBLY.

We understand that the many friends of E. B. Moore of Copperopolis are urging his name for the nomination as the republican candidate for the assembly from the eleventh district. This movement will receive a hearty endorsement in all parts of Calaveras, as he is widely known in the county and is exceedingly popular. Mr Moore is an old resident of the county, and is thoroughly conversant with all its various interests. He was an active and hard working member of the board of supervisors of Amador county for several years and proved his ability as a man of affairs. For many years he has been a leading business man of Copperopolis and for a time was engaged in business here.

This assembly district includes Amador, Alpine and Mono counties and Mr Moore is not unknown in these counties. Indeed in Amador county he is exceedingly popular and is nearly as well known there as here. He was engaged in business in Sutter Creek for quite a while and still has property interests there, so that he would be almost as much from that county as from Calaveras.

Mr Moore belongs to that class of men that should be in public service, but seldom can be induced to leave private interests even for a short time, to accept public service. But it is such as he that the people want and who make the public service better by their participation. He is a man of tried and sterling integrity, who knows no pathway save the straight and narrow one of duty. One of the people, his every interest is their interest and the people can make no mistake in selecting him as their representative. There will probably be no shadow of opposition to his nomination in Calaveras.—Prospect.

The Penn Chemical Works, which are located at Campo Seco in this county, through its president, have given a miner named Jesus Gomez $1,000 as a compensation for an injury received while employed by its company. On August 31st of last year Gomez was working at the company's mine, and at the noon hour, in company with a companion, started for the boarding house to eat his noon meal. When about half way there, Gomez's companion was in the lead and suddenly stopped, exclaiming that he smelt a lighted fuse. Before they could run away a blast went off, and Gomez was badly injured. One of his eyes was blown out, and he was removed to St. Joseph's hospital in Stockton, where the company paid for his keeping until he recovered. Gomez then went to the company and demanded damages, but the officers refused to accede to his demands. He then placed his case in the hands of an attorney, who, after conversing with the officers of the mine, secured for his client the sum mentioned above.—Calaveras Chronicle.

Johnnie Relleri and another prospector have been developing a mine on the Relleri ranch at Carson, that bids fair to equal the Kawhide bonanza. They have been at work about six weeks and the rock taken out shows a milling value of $10 or $12 per ton. But within a few days a pocket has been struck, that is pure gold. The parties have been keeping the matter pretty quiet but we understand that the find is up to the stories of the fabulous richness of some of the early day stories in that famous district.—Prospect.

B. H. Mace took the civil service examination of the forestry department of the U. S. government on April 22d and 23d at Sonora and has been appointed temporarily as a guard at the northern district of the Stanislaus national timber reserve. On the 15th inst., he will go on duty at Sly Park in El Dorado county, about 20 miles northeast of Volcano, for a short time, and then will be transferred to a point at or about Cook's station in this county.—Echo.

There was quite a row in Valley Spring last Friday over a watch trade. It appears that a traveling watch peddler succeeded in selling a watch to young Lopez of that place for $10 and soon after left for Jackson by buggy. When Lopez exhibited his watch to his friends he was quickly informed that it was of the variety that were dear at $8 per dozen. He at once mounted his horse and started out after the peddler and overtaking him on the road induced him to return to town with him. No sooner did the man get into town than he was set upon by numerous friends of Lopez and pretty roughly handled. He was rescued by bystanders, but was pretty badly frightened. He will probably steer clear of Valley Spring as a watch market.—Prospect.

Last Sunday at the home of the bride's parents at Avery, Frank C. Wells, county school superintendent, of San Andreas, and Miss Maud Avery, daughter of George Avery and wife, were united in marriage by the Rev. W. Doane, of Angies, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties. After the ceremony the couple left amid a shower of rice and good wishes, to drive to Sonora, from where they took the train for the bay cities to enjoy their honeymoon.—Angels Record.

Joseph Wilson, aged 53 years, a resident of Sonora, died at his home very suddenly in the northern part of town Friday at noon, after only a few hours illness. The patient was stricken with what appeared to be a severe case of pneumonia Friday morning, and his heart being weak his life was extinguished. Deceased was well known in this city having lived here for a number of years. He leaves a brother and a mother, the latter, Mrs. Jane Reynolds, both residing at West Point, Calaveras county. The remains have been shipped to that place for burial. His brother is now seriously ill with but little chance for his recovery.—Sonora Independent.

THE STORY OF GOLD.

The earliest mention of gold is in the second chapter of Genesis, where it is referred to as one of the metals of the land of Havilah. Silver appears almost as early, says Harper's Weekly. The Babylonian civilization, which with that of Egypt, ruled the Biblical world, appears to have had a silver currency. "Shekels of silver" and "pieces of silver" are constantly spoken of. Gold was used chiefly for ornament, its malleability and ductility making it the easiest of metals to handle. The mines which supplied the coinage of the ancient world were in India. Solomon's sailors brought gold from "Ophir," an unknown land, by many thought to be Mashonaland, in South-Central Africa, where ruins of prehistorical Semitic forts and mine shafts have been found.

The Spanish conquest of South America flooded the world with gold and silver. Prices rose tenfold during a century. Before the discovery of America a fat sheep could be bought for a quarter, and workingmen had lived sumptuously upon 5 cents a day. The second great influx of gold occurred during the 50s of the last century, when the mines of California and Australia were discovered, and since then there has been a slow rise in the price of commodities, due to the increase of the precious metal; but on the whole the rapid increase in population has kept pace with the increase of gold.

The Age of Man.

The highest authorities place the total number of years elapsed since, in the light of best geological evidence, men first appeared upon earth at 238,000. Of this, 78,000 belong to the preglacial epoch 100,000 years to the glacial, 44,000 to the interval between the glacial epoch and the protohistoric and neolithic, 10,000 years to the two last-named epochs, and 6000 years to the time elapsed since the beginning of the historic period in Egypt.

We Trust Doctors

If you are suffering from impure blood, thin blood, debility, nervousness, exhaustion, you should begin at once with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Sarsaparilla you have known all your life. Your doctor knows it, too. Ask him about it.

Absence of Mind.

Many amusing anecdotes are told of Bishop Burnet's absence of mind, but few perhaps are more striking and have been less repeated than the following, which Lord Orford used to relate:

Burnet was once dining with the Duchess of Marlborough after the great duke's disgrace. In the course of conversation, speaking of Marlborough's great qualities, great services and great fall, Burnet compared the duke with Belshazzar, the great Roman.

"But how in reason," exclaimed the duchess, "could so great a general be abandoned?"

"Ah, my lady, do you know what a cursed brimstone of a wife he had?"

The hearers, to the good Burnet's surprise, were confused and dumb struck with the force of the parallel he discovered in the cases of the Roman and the Englishman.—St. James' Gazette.

The Count Too Touching.

In the long corridor of an uptown hotel they tell of a certain foreigner who until recently held court there of evenings. At last he disappeared, and then each of the men who had nightly been entertained by his flow of anecdote and his abundance of witty stories confessed that he had lent the count various sums, ranging from $100 up. The total seemed so formidable that a movement was set on foot to bring the defaulter back, his whereabouts having been ascertained. But funds were needed for the purpose. One of the big men of Wall street who was a creditor on the count's books to the extent of $500 was approached for a subscription.

"Not on your life!" said he. "I don't want him back. He'll borrow more money from me if he gets in town. But I'll subscribe $25 toward a fund to send him back to France if he'll agree to sail from Boston."—New York Globe.

Recipe For Making Money.

First catch your capital, however small, or if homemade, such as from savings, so much the better. Place in a steady, secure position, where it will not be disturbed, and allow to stand. Skin off all that accrues without waste and with that at the proper season make a stiff paste of business, in which place your capital or as much of it as you can use with advantage. A little ripe judgment should be added. Season with hope and enterprise and stir briskly with a bunch of fresh energy. While your pie is cooking watch it carefully yourself and see that nothing goes wrong. Keep up a good fire until it begins to brown and don't take too much off the top for tasting until the whole is well cooked; then enjoy the result.—London Graphic.

Square Bullets.

In 1718 an Englishman, James Puckle, secured a British patent for what seems to have been an attempt at a breechloading rapid firing gun. An original feature of the invention was the use of two different breech plates, one for square bullets, to be used against the Turks, and the other for round bullets, to be used against Christians. It is curious to find two opposing tendencies in the same invention—first, the desire to construct a gun that should be more effective because more destructive, and second, a desire to recognize certain ethical distinctions in its use. If a round bullet was too good for a Turk, a square one was too bad for a Christian.—London Chronicle.

Stereotyping.

It is claimed that stereotyping was known in 1711. It was practiced by William Ged of Edinburgh about 1730. Some of Ged's plates are to be seen at the Royal Institution, London. A Mr. James attempted to introduce Ged's process in London in 1735, but failed. Stereotype printing was used in Holland during the last century, and a quarto Bible and a Dutch folio Bible were printed there. It was revived in London by Wilson in 1804. Since 1850 the durability of stereotypes has been greatly increased by electrotyping them with copper or silver.

The Cure.

Professor W. E. Grange, author of the "History of Primitive Love," alluded in the course of a lecture in Boston to the modern cynical view of love that prevails: "I remember once hearing a bricklayer and a plumber discuss love. 'I hold,' said the bricklayer, 'that if you are terribly in love the way to cure yourself is to run away.' The plumber shook his head and sneered. 'That will cure you,' he said, 'provided you run away with the girl.'"

Short and Out.

"Where is Mr. Middleman?" asked the caller at the broker's office.

"I think he's out on a little matter of wheat," replied the bright clerk.

"Out long?"

"Certainly not. If he had been long, he would have been in. It's because he was short that he's out."—Philadelphia Press.

'Twas H₂SO₄.

AMADOR ASSOCIATION

HOLDS FIRST PICNIC.

Oakland, May 4, 1908.

Editor Amador Ledger:—Sunday at East Side Park at Stege, was held the first annual picnic of the Amador County Association. Though the morning was a little cold and blustering, the main part of the day could not have been better. Stege, or East Side Park is a beautiful and an ideal place for a picnic, it is within easy distance of the car track, being about 400 feet from it, in a fine location. The park is entirely enclosed so one is not annoyed by any outside intruders. It contains the various advantages to be found in such places, especially for young people, including a lake for rowing purposes. Some of our picnickers found themselves marooned in mid lake and wisely concluded, that they could navigate the "Ram's Horn" at Volcano better than a boat in East Side Park.

Including children there were over 150 persons present, and every one seemed bent on meeting all the rest, and in knowing all present. Each person had a slip of paper fastened on his or her wearing apparel, with a name on it, that "he who runs may read," and by reading these slips one could easily find many residents of Old Amador, such as Jimmy Mayon, Tom Mayon, Dave Miller, John R. Tregloan, Billy O. Clark, Hon. F. John Davis, Ed. Freeman, Judge Kroning, Dr. Gabbs, E. Muldoon, and many others too numerous to mention from the towns of the county.

At noon all repaired to a beautiful grove of weeping willows, under which are permanently built comfortable tables and benches. All brought their baskets and made a bounteous spread, and it was greatly enjoyed by all. It was a regular Amador county day, bright sun and clear sky, and if we could have had a few Indians around to enjoy the "heap biscuits" one would have easily imagined him self to be on one of the grand hills of fair Amador.

I must not forget to mention the fair and handsome daughters of Amador that one could find by reading little slips fastened to their dainty white suits, and among them I noticed Hattie Hinkson, Mame Wheeler, Mabel Wheeler-Breese, Edith French, Miss Blakely, Miss Bunker, Carrie Tiffany, Julia Hinkson Miller, May Ardittio, Hattie Scott, Mrs. Dickerman, and many others. Phillip Orchard and his charming young wife, seemed to be as happy and contented as any one; Mrs. Trevina and son were familiar faces, and Mrs. Prosser of Sutter Creek, Chester Prouty, Mr and Mrs Kane, Mr and Mrs Riley, Mrs. Tregrove, Mrs. Braser, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Ball and L. Tregrove were among the residents of Ione. It was indeed a treat to meet and talk with so many old friends; a great many were there who at present live elsewhere, and among them were Judge Davis and wife, though the Judge still claims Jackson as his home; Fred Bradley and wife, (nee Parks), and Mrs. Jas. F. Parks, still looking as young as her fair daughters. It would be difficult to tell of all that were there, but it was voted that all then present would be there next year, and all went away well satisfied with their visit and wishing success to the organization.

John R. Tregloan was president of the day, Hon. Edward Freeman was toast master, while very interesting addresses were made by Judge Davis, Hon. Fred Stewart of Ione, W. O. Clark of Drytown, Dr. James L. Mayon of Oakland, and the ladies were represented by a genuine pioneer of 43, Mrs. Julia Hinkson Miller of Drytown, who gave an interesting address full of pioneer times. And the Native Daughters were represented by Miss Clara Burt of Oakland, in a neat address. After the toast master made an interesting talk, all adjourned to the fine pavilion, to listen to songs by Miss Smith, accompanied by Miss McDonald, and the singing of an original song called "Dear Old Amador" composed by Carrie Tregrove (Mrs. Braser.) The younger folks spent an hour or more in dancing and the others enjoying conversation with old friends, and the little ones enjoying the swings, boat rides, tennis ground, etc., and the hour reaching five o'clock with a special large car to meet us, all departed for home, though on the way home, the car was attempted to be held up by two outlaws, who worked with such determined resistlessness, that they were finally over-powered, handcuffed and bound securely, until they promised to be forever hereafter good upon being "sweated." They gave as their names Grant Miller and Ed. Tiffany.

With many wishes for the good old Ledger and for its still longer fearless life. Yours truly,

One of them.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY

Reported weekly for the Ledger.

Heating Germs of Hay.—A Fire-Detecting Wire.—Red and White Meat.—The Greatest of Nebulae.—Electric Drive in Textile Mills.—Intermittent Loading of Iron.—Scientific Over-Production.—Asbestos for Walls.

The spontaneous heating of hay has been pronounced by De Boekhout and De Vries as purely chemical, but a new investigation has convinced Miesbe that it has a physiological origin. With a special apparatus he has proved that sterilized hay never heats spontaneously, while such hay that had been sprinkled with water contaminated by ordinary hay soon became heated. Certain organisms are concerned, Bacillus coli and Odium lactis being chiefly active up to 20 degrees F., and Bacillus cal-factor being found at greater temperatures. A curious fact is that the interior of a large heated stack becomes sterilized by its own heat. This is of great practical importance as the sterile hay is much more wholesome fodder, several common species of microbes causing intestinal diseases, while the molds are distinctly poisonous.

A new fire detector of unusual kind is a fine copper wire encased in fusible metal, which in turn, is covered with insulating material and enclosed in a copper tube of one-tenth of an inch. The tube is strung like bell-wire or mounted in short sections on porcelain blocks. When the temperature increases to the sensitive temperature—160, 200 or 370 degrees F.—the fusible alloy is softened and forced through the porous insulation against the copper tube, ringing the alarm continuously until stopped.

An old idea was that red meat might be injurious sometimes when white meat would be harmless. Analyzing raw meats in 1899, Offer and Rosenquist concluded that there was practically no difference, but late analyses of both raw and cooked meats justify Adler in making a distinction. Losing less deleterious extractives in cooking, the red meat may be undesirable in certain maladies, like gout and nephritis.

A faint patch of light in the constellation Andromeda, astronomically known as 31 Messier is among the most interesting of sky puzzles. It is a ringed nebula with an apparent diameter of 2 1-3 degrees, or four times that of the full moon, and far surpasses in immensity any other object in the northern heavens. Various observations have led Dr. J. E. Gore to some speculations as to its character. Sir Wm. Herschel estimated the great nebula's distance at 2,000 times that of Sirius, or more than 17,000 light-years, but the lately determined parallax of Prof. Bohlin, of Stockholm, indicates a distance of about 19 light-years. From the attempts at measurement, Dr. Gore calculates that the nebula's diameter must be at least 50,000 times the distance of the sun from the earth, requiring more than nine months for light to cross it, at 185,000 miles per second. Assuming the thickness to be only one-thousandth of the diameter and the density only one-millionth of that of hydrogen, the mass must be at least eight million times that of the sun, and this minimum estimate is thought to be fairly probable. It is concluded that this vast body—greater than all of the stars combined—must be a part of our sidereal system. The idea has been advanced, however, that it is a separate universe, at least equal to our own, and that would imply a distance of at least 150,000 light-years and a diameter of 3,000 light-years.

Though no textile mill was driven electrically five years ago, John Shaw, of the British Thompson-Houston Company, finds that the electric motors now aggregate 26,000 horse-power in the mills of Great Britain and 155,000 horse-power in the United States. The greatest advantage is the steadiness and uniformity of speed, but important also are the reduction of power transmitting devices, less wear and tear, greater flexibility, ease of tracing power costs to each department, and the centralization of power-generating plant. In new mills the capital cost is reduced ten per cent, justifying the prediction that the electric drive will soon become universal in textile mills.

It has been understood that continual loading and unloading tends to reduce the strength of iron beams, and a recent investigation has been made at the testing laboratory in Grosslichterfelde, near Berlin, to settle the truth of this assumption and show the possible extent of the deterioration. From an old railway viaduct, built in 1856, twenty-four beams were taken for testing. Comparison was made of beams from the heaviest loaded and the lightest loaded parts of the bridge, and also of two exactly similar portions of the same beam, one part having been first annealed. A fact well known is that annealing restores strength and elasticity to iron that has been impaired by heavy loading. The tests of the materials corrected the old view, and proved that the strength of the iron had not been lessened by the variable loading for fifty-one years, but rather that the strongest parts were those that had been exposed to the heaviest load.

Germany is suffering from a surfeit of technical education. The attendance at the special schools has increased rapidly to large proportions, and for 1907-1908 the total number of pupils enrolled at the ten highest German technical institutions has been 15,720, an increase of nearly 300 over the previous year. The largest single institution is the Hochschule at Munich, with 2325 regular pupils. The demand in the industries has not kept pace with the increasing supply, and a great number of young men fail to gain the expected places on the state railways and the public works department of the government while the keen competition is fixing a low price on highly trained service.

The asbestos slates of a Munich firm are claimed to be not only waterproof but as hard and strong as natural slate, so that they can be applied to walls or roof without lathing or boarding. They can be bored, nailed or cut like wood. They make wooden walls fireproof, serve for heat and electric insulation, and protect from damp and vermin.

Who Jones Was.

[Copyright, 1907, by P. C. Eastment.]

It was more than thirty years ago that a Boston policeman saw Jones walking about on the Common with such a queer look on his face and so many evidences about him that he was lost that he accosted him and asked him for information concerning himself. Jones could give very little. He didn't know whether he was in Boston or Chicago. He didn't know how nor when he got there. He didn't know whether his name was Jones or Montmorency.

It was the duty of the police to solve the mystery. The case was written up and published broadcast. A close personal description was given, and many of the papers published his picture.

After he had hung around for a month he went to work as a common laborer, but waiting and hoping for news all the time. It was well for him that a wealthy man living in New Haven became interested in the case and determined to follow it up as a fad. Jones was only too willing.

He was first given a thorough examination by alienists. Jones was found just as sane as the alienists themselves. That may have disappointed them, but they had to admit it. Eminent surgeons then examined him to see if his state had not been brought about by some accident to the brain. Nothing of the sort could be shown. Jones was of phlegmatic temperament and not the man to worry his head over anything. A score of people were allowed to question him. Of course the idea was to bring forward something to remind him of himself and surroundings before the mysterious change. Almost every family name ever heard of in New England was mentioned, but he did not recognize his among them. Quite sure that he had a wife, over fifty given names were called over in hopes to strike him, but this failed. Then there was a list of names of boys and girls, but he shook his head at each one. Then a list of trades was called over. He asked what a carpenter and a blacksmith were. He did not know what a scythe or a plow was.

For two weeks the wisest and keenest of men worked over Jones to rekindle the lost spark, and then things changed about just as might have been looked for. A majority of the committee and through them four-fifths of the public denounced the man as an impostor. It was argued that he was a tramp who was looking for a soft thing, and it was even urged that he be arrested. Only the New Haven man stuck to him, and perhaps that was more through obstinacy than anything else. He went back and reviewed the whole case from the beginning. As Jones had no money, it was fair to suppose that he had reached the city on foot. A man out of his right mind and acting queerly could not have traveled far even over country highways without being noticed or taken up. As the newspapers, daily and weekly, had given the case so much prominence, his nearest relatives were not subscribers to any public journal or lived in a secluded locality. Again, Jones must have been a man who frequently absented himself from home or his wife would have been worried about him and announced his disappearance.

This was the correct line of reasoning, and it soon brought results. Had it been followed from the first there would have been no long drawn mystery. The New Haven man drew a circle on the map for fifty miles around the landward side of Boston and then set out with his man. He got just one hint to guide him before starting. On the street one day as they were passing a machine shop Jones paused to inspect a machine at the door. From the way he went about it it was judged that he had had considerable to do with machinery. It is wonderful how easily any knot is untied when you get hold of it the right way. The two men traveled over the highways with a horse and buggy. As soon as they were out of the city every farmer or traveler was asked if he knew Jones. On the second day, when forty-five miles away and just as they were descending a long hill with a house and a chair shop at the foot of it, they encountered a woman. She was asked if she knew him.

"Why, he's my husband! Samuel, where on earth have you been all this time?"

Samuel rubbed his eyes, stretched and gaped and got down and kissed her. Nothing ailed him now. He was all right. He was a country chair-maker, with a shop driven by water power. He was also an inventor. He had left home to visit Boston and see about having a model made. On the way he had either lost his money or been robbed of it. He may have fallen or got a blow on the head. He may have been badly frightened. Brooding over his invention might have unsettled his mind. At any rate, he reached Boston as one walking in his sleep, and, as no newspaper reached the house, his wife had seen nothing about it. He had often been away for a week, and on this occasion she figured that he was staying a little longer to complete the machine.

The only points you may argue over are: Why didn't people in his vicinity recognize him, and would things have come back to him if they hadn't met his wife? You must argue them out to your own satisfaction. I have simply to add that his name was Bascom and not Jones and that he was inventing one of the corn planters in use today.

Wanted for Vagrancy.

A warrant for vagrancy was issued out of Judge Thompson's court last evening against Miss Eva Howard, one of the demi monde, and placed in the hands of Marshal Huberty. He started for Sacramento this morning where the woman is supposed to be in hiding. This charge is but a legal excuse to get her back in order to place a more serious one against her—that of enticing a young girl of this town. The name of Miss Eva Howard has been taken to conceal her identity as far as possible. It is well known that she has or had a husband at Plymouth, whom she abandoned as well as two or three small children. After leaving Plymouth she went to Stockton for awhile, and from there was traced to Jackson. One of her relatives was here some time ago and tried to induce her to return to her family, but his visit was a failure, and she was left to follow her own evil ways.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A Midnight Disturbance.

The town was treated to a row Sunday night last, the result of which promises to bring about a number of reforms as well as to keep the city recorder busy in adjusting the four cases now before him. The two boys generally had been to Paloma to witness the ball game in the afternoon of that day, and some of them had taken on a little too much refreshment. Well, late that evening Dan Driscoll and Virgilio Boro had a little trouble with a drunken man and had followed him into C. B. Ardito's saloon, intending to thrash him. Ardito pulled off his coat and said that he would take a hand in it. The boys left the place at that, and at the door met Jim Carrira. Driscoll accused him of making a statement that was not wholly true. They started in on Carrira when Ardito stepped out and hit Driscoll. The latter immediately swore out a complaint of battery against Ardito, who appeared before Judge Thompson, plead guilty as charged, and was fined $10, which he paid. Driscoll also had Carrira arrested for battery, but he plead not guilty, and was released on bail. Ardito then had Driscoll, Boro, and Steve Angove, who took a small part in the affair, arrested on misdemeanor charges. They plead not guilty and were released on bail. Later a warrant was sought for the arrest of Ardito on the charge of selling liquors to minors, but this was not successful. The case against Carrira, complaint of Dan Driscoll is set for Monday.

Snow in May.

The hills a few miles above Jackson were treated to a coat of the white mantle during Saturday night. It is a rare event to have a fall of snow in this month at such an altitude. Since early days there are but three instances that snow has appeared in this month—once in the 50's, again in '69 and last week. At Pine Grove the fall was a few inches. Volcano had its share, while 5 or 6 inches fell at Antelope. Of course it could not last long in a May sun, and quickly disappeared, being of material help to the crops on account of the long drouth. The brisk north wind moderated before the following morning and no damage of consequence resulted to the fruit blossoms and fruit just forming. The foliage was well advanced and afforded ample protection. Early vegetables were cut down in a few cold localities, but nothing was entirely killed.

Pensions Raised.

The following letter was received from Congressman Englebright within the past few days and will be of great interest to many in this county:

Washington, D. C., April 25, 1908.
My dear sir—I take pleasure in advising that the rate of pension to all widows, minors, and helpless children now on the pension rolls at a less rate will be increased to $12 per month under the act of April 19, 1908, from the date of the act.

No application is required to obtain the increased rate, but the same will be paid by the United States pension agent at the next quarterly payment upon receipt of the voucher properly executed which is now in possession of the pensioner.

The present pension certificate should be retained until its return shall have been requested by the pension agent from whom the pension is received.

Respectfully yours,
W. F. Englebright,
M. C., First California District.

Contracts for Supplies
And Stationery Let.

Replying to the call for bids for furnishing the county hospital with supplies for the county hospital, and the county officers with stationery, two bids were put in on each. Thomas was the successful bidder for the meat, while Cassinelli underbid Glavinovich by a small margin and was awarded the contract. F. W. Ruhser underbid Vela & Piccardo by more than $11 yet the contract was awarded to the latter.

Ordinance No. 41

An Ordinance Providing Rules and Regulations for the Government of the Jackson Public Cemetery.

The Board of Trustees of the city of Jackson do ordain as follows:

Sec. 1. It shall be unlawful and a misdemeanor to bury in said cemetery or to remove therefrom for burial or other purpose the body of any deceased person without first having obtained a permit to do so from the city clerk.

Sec. 2. To violate or refuse, fail or neglect to comply with any lawful, general or special order, notice or direction of the board of trustees of the city of Jackson, or any member of said board, relating to said cemetery.

Sec. 3. For any person, other than the sexton of said cemetery, or persons working under or for him, to dig any grave in said cemetery without first having obtained the written permission of three members of the board of trustees authorizing them to do so.

Sec. 4. To in any way damage the trees, floral beds, monuments, head stones, or improvements of any kind in any part of said cemetery. Disorderly persons are not allowed upon the grounds and pilfering or vandalism of any sort is strictly prohibited.

Sec. 5. To bury in said cemetery the remains of any person whose death has occurred from disease that is held by the State Board of Health to be infectious, contagious or communicable and dangerous to the public health unless same is buried in a sealed metallic casket or a cemented grave.

Sec. 6. To leave or deposit rubbish, dirt, brush or refuse of any kind on graves, walks or passage ways in said cemetery, or at any other place therein than dumping ground selected by the sexton, or to build fires for any purpose in said cemetery without permission of the sexton, or at any place therein that is not selected by him.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the sexton of said cemetery:

1. To refuse to permit the interment of any body in said cemetery unless it is accompanied by a burial, removal or transit permit as required by law;

2. To keep a record of all interments made in said cemetery, stating the name of the deceased person, place of death, date of burial, name and address of undertaker, and a description of the location of the grave sufficient for its future identification, which record shall at all times be open to public inspection;

3. To dig, or cause to be dug all graves to be hereafter prepared upon receiving twenty four hours notice requiring him to do so.

4. To superintend the digging of graves by persons authorized to dig same by written permission of the board of trustees of the city of Jackson.

5. To care for and keep in order the lot or lots of private individuals, upon receiving from them the sum of not to exceed ten dollars per annum in lawful money of the United States, which said money shall be deposited by said sexton in the city treasury and placed in the cemetery fund.

6. He shall collect from all corporations, lodges, societies or individuals making interments in said cemetery the sums charged for digging graves and all said sums shall be deposited by said sexton in the city treasury and placed in the cemetery fund. The said sexton shall make a monthly report to the board of trustees of all matters concerning the cemetery and particularly of all moneys received by him.

7. He shall appoint a deputy to serve during his absence or inability to perform his duties, and shall pay said deputy out of the compensation received by him as such sexton. The appointment of such deputy shall be subject to the approval of the board of trustees of the city of Jackson.

Sec. 8. The sexton shall be appointed by the board of trustees and will hold office during the pleasure of the board. He shall receive such compensation, payable out of the cemetery fund as may be fixed from time to time by resolution of the board of trustees. Before entering upon the discharge of his duties he shall give a bond in the sum of one thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of such duties as are now or may hereafter be required of him by law or ordinance.

Sec. 9. Every person employed as a sexton of the Jackson Public Cemetery, shall, during his term of office as such, be vested with all the powers of a special police officer, and he shall be required to perform the duties of a special police officer, in addition to his other duties, for the better protection of the property in his charge; but he shall not be entitled to, nor shall he receive any compensation other than his salary for his services as such sexton for any services required under the provisions of this ordinance.

Sec. 10. All graves to be hereafter dug in said cemetery shall be six feet in depth in solid earth, measured from the natural surface of the ground, and the measurement to be made from the lowest point of the opening of same.

Sec. 11. The following sums shall be charged and collected for digging graves:

For adult graves $10.

For children's graves $5.

Burial lots having a frontage of four feet and a depth of eight feet will be sold at the rate of one dollar per front foot and larger lots for sums in proportion to such four feet by eight feet lots.

The president of the board of trustees and the city clerk are hereby authorized to execute all necessary conveyances in behalf of said municipality for the sale of any lots in said cemetery.

Sec. 12. Every person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars, and in case such fine be not paid, then by imprisonment at the rate of one day for every two dollars of the fine so imposed.

Sec. 13. This ordinance shall be in effect on the 11th day of May, 1908, after its passage and publication.

Introduced, April 30, 1908.

Adopted and approved May 7, 1908 by the following vote:

Ordinance No 40

An Ordinance amending Ordinance No. 7. Amending Section 13 of said Ordinance reducing the license on certain amusements and shows.

The board of trustees of the city of Jackson in the county of Amador, state of California, do ordain as follows:

Sec. 1. Section No. 13, of ordinance No. 7 is hereby amended to read as follows: Managers, agents or owners of every circus and menagerie show, exhibition, amusement, entertainment or game, hereafter mentioned shall pay a license tax as follows:

For every exhibition of a circus included or combined with a menagerie, traveling museum or collection of animals, twenty dollars per day.

For every exhibition of a circus now included or combined with a menagerie, traveling museum or collection of animals, twenty dollars per day.

For every exhibition of a caravan museum, menagerie or collection of animals not included or combined with a circus five dollars per day. For every side show to a menagerie, museum or circus, where a separate admission fee is charged, five dollars per day.

For running hobby horses or carriages or merry-go-rounds seven and one half dollars per week. For shooting galleries ten dollars per month.

For exhibitions under a canvas, or in a building, charging an admission fee where freaks of nature, such as "two-headed women," "three-legged calves" or other monstrosities, are placed on exhibition and for traveling minstrels, shows, traveling dramatic or theatrical performances and for exhibitions charging a fee, such as microscopic, photographs and talking machines, moving pictures, lung testers, ball, knife and ring throwing, galvanic batteries, and all exhibitions similar in character, and not otherwise named, two and one half dollars per day; provided: however, owners, agents and managers of moving picture and phonographic shows and entertainments remaining in the city for any period of time in excess of one week shall be authorized to give such exhibition upon paying a license of $25 per quarter in advance.

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall be published in the Amador Ledger, a newspaper printed and published in the city of Jackson, for one week, and shall take effect and be in force on and after its passage and publication.

Introduced, April 30, 1908.

Passed and approved the 7th day of May, 1908, by the following vote:
Ayes: Wm. Tam, Geo. A. Kirkwood and W. M. Penry.

Noes: None.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers who find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant milk supply for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless remedy to prepare the system for baby's coming, and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate Nervous. Weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, or other retroversion or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famous specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

No Bids For Wood.

As will be seen by the supervisors' proceedings in another column there were no bids tendered for supplying the county with wood for the current year. That result was not expected and such a thing has not occurred for some time, if at all, in the history of the county. There is no 4-foot black oak wood to be had in quantities around here. Wood choppers are not as plentiful as they were several years ago, when the ditch construction and other work were the cause of drawing men to this section. There is plenty of wood, but none cut. The county has always demanded the best dry, black oak. To postpone the re-advertising for another month might mean no change in the anxiety to furnish the county with wood, and even under the present arrangement it is hard to see how it is going to be thoroughly dry. Even that of last year was not fully seasoned, and a mild winter left a larger quantity on hand than usual. The heating stoves are all made for wood; burning coal or coke in them is out of the question. So the supervisors, in order to guarantee something that might pass as wood, green or partly seasoned, entered into a contract with A. Massa to furnish what might be needed at $8 per cord. The county paid $7.50 per cord for that delivered last year.

Timber Land, Act June 3, 1878—

Notice For Publication.—2180

United States Land Office, Sacramento, California, April 11, 1908.
Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the states of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," as extended to all the public land states by act of August 4, 1892, Addie M. Stemler of Portland, county of Multnomah, state of Oregon, has this day filed in this office her sworn statement No. 2180, for the purchase of the S $\frac{1}{4}$ of S E $\frac{1}{4}$ and N E $\frac{1}{4}$ of S E $\frac{1}{4}$ sec. 14, and N W $\frac{1}{4}$ of S W $\frac{1}{4}$, of section No. 13, in township No. 7 N., range No. 14 E., M. D. M., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the register and receiver at U. S. Land Office in Sacramento, California, on Monday, the 22nd day of June, 1908.

She names as witnesses:
Hattie Spring and Mable J. Frank of San Francisco; George C. Bruce of West Point, California; James F. Peck of Berkeley, California.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 22nd day of June, 1908.

Timber Land, Act June 3, 1878—

Notice For Publication.—2179

United States Land Office, Sacramento, California, April 11, 1908.

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the states of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," as extended to all the public land states by act of August 4, 1892, Mable J. Frank of San Francisco, county of San Francisco state of California, has this day filed in this office her sworn statement No. 2179, for the purchase of the S W $\frac{1}{4}$ of S E $\frac{1}{4}$; E $\frac{1}{4}$ of S W $\frac{1}{4}$ and S W $\frac{1}{4}$ of S W $\frac{1}{4}$, of section No. 13, in township No. 7 N., range No. 14 E., M. D. M., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the register and receiver at U. S. Land Office in Sacramento, Calif., on Monday, the 22nd day of June, 1908.

She names as witnesses:
Addie M. Stemler of Portland, Oregon; Hattie Spring of San Francisco, California; George C. Bruce of West Point, California; James F. Peck of Berkeley, California.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 22nd day of June, 1908.

JOHN F. ARMSTRONG,
